

ATTENDANCE MATTERS
WHAT DO YOU THINK?

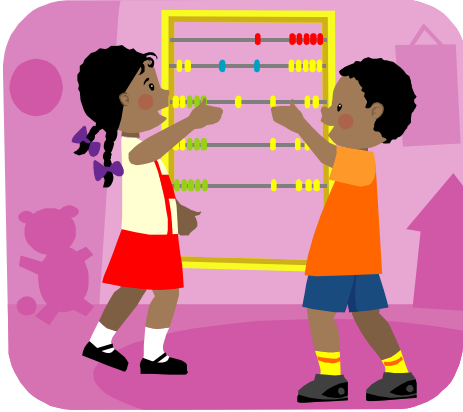

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Would you be happy for your house to be built without foundations?

Without foundations the house will collapse!

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

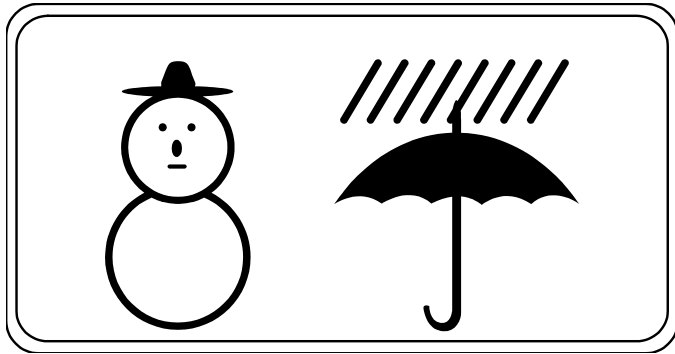

You are in school
for 190 days
of the year

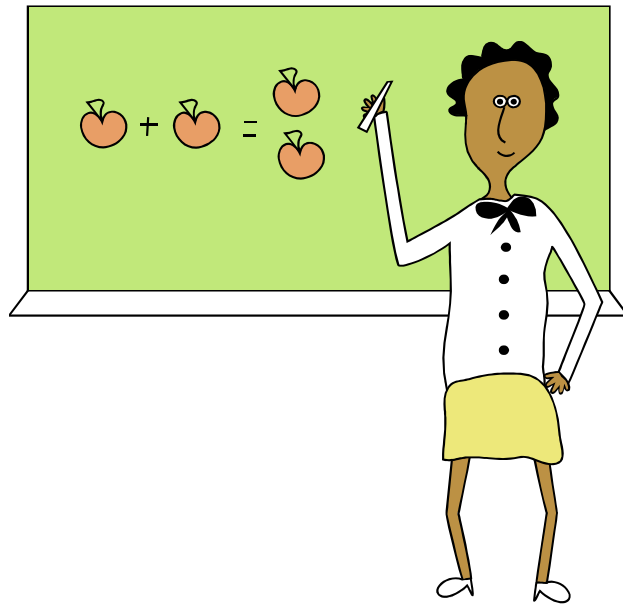

The other 175
days you are at home

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

It is snowing so it seems silly to go to school in case it gets worse.

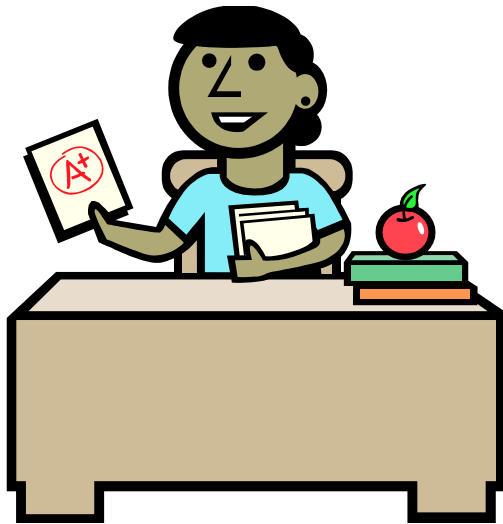

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Your teacher is lovely
..... but keeps having odd Mondays and Fridays off sick.

Would this matter to
you?

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

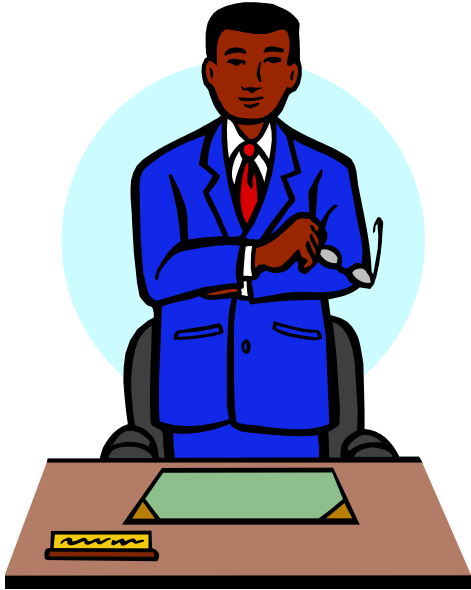

Your teacher is so committed to you all that she has come into school with a vomiting bug.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Your teacher is not really a 'morning person', so you understand that she is often 10 or 15 minutes late for work.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

The Headteacher
wants to take a couple of weeks off
to attend his son's wedding in America.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Your teacher has taken a couple of days off with a cold, but managed to get out to the shops.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

You fall off your bike and break your wrist. You will stay at home until the plaster is off.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Your parent's boss has decided that it won't really matter if he cuts their wages by 10% every month.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

We all care about you and want you to do as well as possible.

That's why it's important that you achieve school attendance of at least

95%
